HISTORIENE BAK

Bowling goes back to about the year 3200 BC, but first in the year 1952 a machine that automatically set up the pins was invented. Bowling has since become a very typical American activity that over the years has become a world-wide sport. What was more natural for Støtvig Hotel then to choose this indoor activity? We found it appropriate to link the bowling to one of the most typical American eateries, namely the diner.

The diner concept dates back to the 19th century when the first generations of railroad cars were rejected and abandoned across the American continent. This provided new opportunities by transforming the railroad cars into eateries. Therefore the given design with curved ceilings, oval windows, jukebox, booths with sofas and special lighting. In all, an ideal framework for burgers and milkshakes.
